

Aurora out next week

The February edition of our monthly magazine Aurora will be out in The Newcastle Herald and The Maitland Mercury on Tuesday 7 February; in The Scone Advocate on Thursday 9 February and in The Manning River Times and The Muswellbrook Chronicle on Friday 10 February. Mark your calendar now!

This month only, Aurora will appear in The Singleton Argus on Tuesday 14 February. This is due to a problem with too many pre-booked inserts in The Argus on Friday 10 February.

Our cover story features the Wills triplets from Cessnock who have just begun kindergarten. Their parents Cheryl and Lincoln share some of their story.

Bishop Bill reminds us, “Every day we require rest. Every week, according to the ancient wisdom, we require a day of rest. Every year we need holidays.”

Tracey Edstein introduces Emma Chapple, who has not let autism spectrum disorder impede her opportunities for employment. With the support of caring and optimistic teachers and Hunter LabourForce Solutions, Emma has found work that is fulfilling for her and for her clients.

Aurora includes a ‘new girl’, Anna Humphries. We’re sure you will find her column, “Honestly Anna”, brings a fresh and youthful perspective.

Jo Isaac shares the wisdom she acquired after her eldest child’s first year at school. She says, in the midst of it all, “It should be fun!” If you have a kindergarten child, even if not your first, you will enjoy Jo’s piece.

Aurora enters the debate about poker machine legislation with an opinion piece by Michael Elphick and a personal testimony from a self-confessed gambler. You will have a new perspective after you read these pages, guaranteed!

There is so much more to read so don’t miss your copy of the February Aurora.

It has come to our attention that when Aurora is machine inserted into copies of The Newcastle Herald, an occasional copy misses the insert. When buying The Herald (or any other participating newspaper) please check that Aurora is included. If you have The Herald (or any other participating newspaper) delivered and Aurora is missing, please contact Newcastle Newspapers directly on 4979 5000, and a copy of Aurora will be posted to you.
