

Aurora out this week

The July edition of our monthly magazine Aurora will be out in The Newcastle Herald and Maitland Mercury today Tuesday 5 July; in The Scone Advocate on Thursday 7 July and in The Manning River Times, The Muswellbrook Chronicle and The Singleton Argus on Friday 8 July.

Of course there are photos and a report from the Ordination of Bishop Bill Wright, and Bishop Bill's first Aurora column appears.

Catherine Mahony offers a reflection on the film Oranges and Sunshine, informed by her work with Centacare (now CatholicCare) in a previous life. Do try to see the film.

Stories feature all our secondary schools – including Dio Sounds 2011 - and a number of primary schools, reminding of us how much is going on there every day. When you read this, students and teachers will be enjoying a welcome midyear break.

Luke Edwards offers practical suggestions for families wishing to live in harmony with the Earth, and Justine Worner shares her reflection on where faith stood when her brother died suddenly.

Paul Maguire completes a story that began last year when he and his wife Julie shared their dream to travel to Nepal to install solar lighting systems in the settlement of Tari.

There is much more to read so don't miss your copy of the July Aurora!
