Throughout my life I have been grateful for the opportunities I have had to deepen my appreciation of our Christian faith through formation as an adult.

The foundations that were laid in my seminary courses in Scripture, Theology and Church History have enabled me to go on reading, talking and learning all through life. Understanding the basis of our faith has freed me from reliance on the security of simple catechism answers of childhood, and yet it has given me also a certain discernment about what St Paul called ‘every new wind of doctrine’.

I would wish every believer to be neither locked in the past nor apt to fall victim to everything trendy. I would like as many Catholics as possible to share in the enrichment that comes from getting to understand more fully what we believe and why. Why did Jesus suffer? How has our Mass been understood down the centuries? Where do we stand on evolution? Do our sexual ethics make any sense in the modern world? Why are the fundamentalists wrong to take all of the Bible literally? People ask these things, and the answer is not, ‘It’s a mystery’. Neither is the answer, ‘Well, I think....’

Opinions in religion are only as good as the real knowledge and understanding that underpins them. Study corrects uninformed opinions as well as opening up minds to deeper understanding. Both are valuable services to the believer who wants to be able to believe in believing.

The following pages set out a range of formative experiences and courses that are available in the diocese to enable our people to deepen their understanding of our faith, ranging over scripture, theology, church history, spirituality and formation for ministry. It is my hope that many, many people will take the opportunity of participating in these courses, and that it will be enable them to live more informed and engaged Christian lives as disciples of Jesus.
