

Bringing the Gospel to Life

Presented by Nicholas King SJ, direct from the UK

Free Online Event

Wednesday November 4

This November we are blessed to have Father Nicholas King SJ, the Assistant Catholic Chaplain at Oxford University visit us virtually with his presentation Bringing the Gospel to Life.

Many people nowadays think that the Bible is “old-fashioned” and rather dead. In this session we shall be looking at ways in which it is possible to find the Gospel as a source of life, looking at some passages from Paul, Matthew, Luke and John.

It will be great to be back in NSW, at least “virtually” after nine years. I have an ancient relationship with Australia, of which one part is grudging admiration for the unyielding performance of your cricketers; and it has always been my ambition to be in the country during an Ashes series. So far, I have not managed that, but I thoroughly enjoyed my visit to Maitland-Newcastle and Broken Bay. I enjoyed working with you to discover how to make the gospels come alive; and discuss “Jesus’ useless disciples” in the gospel of Mark. It was a most enjoyable expedition, and I formed a great admiration for the Catholic and Anglican lay-people whose intelligent enthusiasm for the scriptures brought the lectures alive. So, I look forward to being with you again, at least across the ether.
