

Beginning Special Religious Education Teachers Induction Day

The SRE ministry strives to promote the Kingdom of God on earth.

This workshop for newly appointed teachers of Special Religious Education will provide participants with opportunities to learn new skills and receive information about expectations that are required before entering the classroom.

It is an invitation to meet other new colleagues in the hope that you can share ideas, information, and friendship.

The day will provide you with a snapshot of your role within the ministry, expectations, legal matters, classroom management and creative storytelling.

You will leave with a toolkit of resources that you can use in the schools.

Please provide any dietary requirements upon registration.
